ROME G. EASTMAN HOSPITAL 2009

There is an Italian Dental School that is the patrimony of all.
There is also a glorious hospital tradition: The ambition of S.I.M.O is to be its voice.

7th National Convention of the Italian Society of Maxillo
Odontostomatology

Dear Members,

The appointment of The S.I.M.O. National Convention has reached its' Seventh Edition. The theme this year is "Maxillo Odontostomatology without Frontiers". The international Convention is of great importance and interest, organized in the odontologic field for comparison between American, Italian, English, French and Swedish Schools joined by the generosity and hard work of the American philanthrope, George Eastman. The Convention will be held over 3 days; Day 1 will begin with the inauguration, after greetings from the invited Authorities, followed by the Lectio Magistralis held by Prof. Cyril Meyerowitz. A concert held by the Police Service of Rome Choir "Virgo Fidelis", will conclude the inauguration of the 7th SIMO Convention.

The Convention will precede on the morning of Thursday 5th of February, by interesting pre-conventional courses; such courses will deal with themes related to research and innovative technology in Odontology: Laser, regenerative Surgery, Implantology and piezoelectric Surgery.

The following days, themes on innovation in maxillo odontostomatology in Italian and European Schools will be addressed.

Given the success to the previous editions, the Directive Board of S.I.M.O. has decided to reintroduce a session of reports, presented by the younger Odontist members of S.I.M.O.

However, perhaps the most interesting news of the Convention is that the Directive Board of S.I.M.O. has decided to dedicate Euro 10,000.00 to the Odontostomatology Homecare project abroad.

This contribution means a great incentive for the diffusion of Maxillo Odontostomatology Homecare for the less fortunate.

All the events will be accredited by CME.

I am delighted, therefore, of your participation to The 7th National Convention, 1st International Congress.

I send my warmest wishes to welcome you and for great work.

Mauro Orefici

The Use of Laser in Maxillo Odontostomatology

Laser technology is by now part of the modern instrumentation used in Maxillo Odontostomatology. Furthermore the introduction of new wave lengths adapted to Maxillo Odontostomatology, make it possible to carry out numerous surgical restorative and aesthetic interventions in both soft and hard tissue with the use of the maxillo-stomatognathic apparatus. The Diodi laser, extremely compact and versatile allows for abrasive, excised and plastic treatments on soft tissue. This laser opens new and extremely interesting prospects for the treatment of oral cavity blemishes and oral pathologies. The author, after presenting the specific characteristics of the machine, will present clinical cases with a final discussion regarding these cases.

ROBERTO PELLEGRINO

State of the Art in Piezoelectric Surgery Practical trials on organic materials with Piezosurgery Piezoelectric surgery has recently presented importance in both the clinical and congressional environment. During the presentation, fundamental elements will be examined to evaluate what is the scientific function at the base of piezoelectric surgery, what are the real possible applications and what are the futuristic scenes and which should be the scientific criteria on the guide of histological samples for the correct choice of apparatus to obtain. Lastly, after an appropriate technical explanation, practical exercises on animal models will be performed with the aim to appreciate the real benefits offered from piezoelectric surgery.
